of the advisory committee held Thursthe advisory committee heid Thurstay. The solicitation will be devoid of many of the spectacular features which have characterized similar requests for charity in the past, but the leaders in the movement are imbued with the idea, that an investment in happiness to the donor will more than repay the amount of financial outlay involved.

Thursday J. A. Riechman was made chairman and Elwood Lloyd, scoretary. The advisory committee was high in its praise of the trift which has characterized the conduct of the affairs of the home by the sisters during the past year, but even with the most rigid economy $15,000 is needed over and above the income of the institution to meet the budget of the running expenses for the coming year. In addition a stain nearing $7,000 is needed for necessary repairs.

"Stockholders' in Memphis and surrounding ferritory will be circularized to "invest" again and others will be received with acolaim in the charity which the advisory committee claims yields dividends in satisfaction of good deeds done in restraint of evil and help rendered many unable to field themselves.

TRIAL FOR DAMAGES AGAINST STREET RY. ON

Trial at the damage suit of Pets McHugh, special agent for the Illinois Central railroad, against the Memphis Street Railway company and Morris &
Co. has been taking the time of division one of the circuit court since last Monday.

McHugh is suing for $41,000. He alleges that while riding on a street car a wagon owned by Morris & Co. ran into the car, one of the shafts striking him in the ribs and driving one of his ribs against his left lung, seriously and permanently injuring him.

The case probably will not be concluded before Monday.

would be held in absyance until Dec. I, was secured by a committee of the Southern Hardwood Traffic association, which returned from Washington Friday morning. J. H. Townshend, secretary-manager of the traffic association, said that he could not say just now whether the advances now contemplater, or just what rates might be instituted after the day named.

The new rates, which will mean advances of about four cents on the hundred pounds on the average on ships of forest products out of Memphis and Arkansas point, were ordered into effect without the usual formality of advising the shippers. The lumber interests went to Washington to demand that they be given the customary consideration. Mr. Townshend said that the association's committee received a great deal of assistance from Senator McKellar, who secured a hearing for them hefore Mr. Chambers and accompanied
